General: what is Realty-developer.com?

Realty-developer.com is a private document exchange website for special groups and collaborative projects. This site allows you to share documents with only the people you select. Create an account, then create multiple document folders to share documents with your group members. You can set permission levels for your group members and allow them to upload and download documents. Whether for work related projects or creative non-work projects, this site is especially effective if you and your associates are working in different locations.
